

INSIGHTS + NEWS

Forbes quotes Terry Briggs in “Feds Seek Comments On Free Contraceptive Coverage”

AUGUST 3, 2016

Forbes quoted Terry Briggs in an article published today discussing a request issued by the U.S. Departments of The Treasury, Labor and Health & Human Services for comment by the general public regarding organizations’ objections to birth control coverage on religious grounds. The federal government is seeking alternative ways for employers to object to providing contraceptive coverage under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act while ensuring that the accommodation is available to all women.

Read “Feds Seek Comments On Free Contraceptive Coverage” on the Forbes website HERE.