

INSIGHTS + NEWS

Worcester Telegram & Gazette quotes Lou Ciavarra in “Judge: Build Footbridge to Hotel”

SEPTEMBER 14, 2016

The Worcester Telegram & Gazette quoted Lou Ciavarra in an article published today covering a Worcester Superior Court judge’s order that the City of Worcester proceed with the construction of a sky bridge linking the Hilton Garden Inn hotel to the neighboring DCU Center and Major Taylor Boulevard Parking Garage. The sky bridge construction project, which may cost as much as $10 million, will transform and modernize the Martin Luther King, Jr. Boulevard/Major Taylor Boulevard intersection in downtown Worcester.

Bowditch & Dewey and Lou Ciavarra congratulate their client, Fargo Management LLC, on this major litigation success that will result in the City of Worcester fulfilling its promise to construct the sky bridge more than ten years ago.

You can read “Judge: Build Footbridge to Hotel” on the e-edition of the Worcester Telegram. Print subscribers will find the article on the front page of today’s edition of the Telegram & Gazette.