

INSIGHTS + NEWS

Worcester Business Journal names Mike Angelini to The Power 50

JULY 9, 2018

The Worcester Business Journal (WBJ) has named Bowditch & Dewey's Chairman, Mike Angelini, to its 2018 Power Players list. This annual list focuses on people who use their positions to have an outsized influence on the business community.

The WBJ noted:

There might be two people in Worcester with the connections and clout who can immediately make change happen...Angelini is one of these two people, the result of a 50-year career spent working and leading one of the city's most high-profile law firms, volunteering for countless nonprofits and boards like Massport where he raised the profile of Worcester Regional Airport, and making day-to-day connections with the economy's movers and shakers.

Angelini was also selected to this list in 2016.

You can read more about The Power 50 and this year's Power Players on the publication's website.