Bob Cox to Speak at EBC Emerging Contaminants Program: Understanding the Science and Toxicity of PFAS

APRIL 23, 2019

Bob Cox will speak at the Environmental Business Council of New England's (EBC) Emerging Contaminants Program: Understanding the Science and Toxicity of PFAS – A Deeper Dive, taking place at 7:30 a.m. on May 2 at Bowditch's Framingham office.

Bob's speech will discuss the legal perspective of PFAS, which stands for per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances. Previous EBC programs about PFAS provided a general overview of these chemicals, including naming conventions, sources and potentially affected sites, sampling concerns, unique chemistry, fate and transport, and general toxicity information. This program is designed to go to the next level with an assumption that PFAS basics are already understood.
