David Mawhinney Spoke at “The Intersection of Bankruptcy and Cryptocurrency: What Companies Must Know and Do to Mitigate Risks” (Webinar)

On July 29, David Mawhinney joined a panel of thought leaders assembled by The Knowledge Group who helped related practitioners and professionals plan their way through the recent trends and developments in bankruptcy and cryptocurrency. Speakers, among other things, also offered helpful insights in carefully managing legal issues and challenges.

Cryptocurrency is currently gaining popularity around the world as it builds better investment opportunities for several business sectors including the financial and banking industry. However, along with its soaring prominence, issues such as insolvency, crypto-asset incorporation failures, valuation claim risks, and digital asset restructuring challenges also emerge, further implicating the current bankruptcy landscape.

Thus, companies and all affected individuals should thoroughly monitor related enforcement initiatives and notable court decisions to keep them away from threats of litigation. Effective practices and strategies are deemed vital to ensure compliance.

Key topics included:

- Bankruptcy and Cryptocurrency: Regulatory Trends and Developments
- Managing Legal Risks and Issues
- Notable Cases and Court Decisions
- Best Practices and Strategies
- A Look Ahead

David also participated in The Knowledge Group’s “Before the Show” podcast to discuss the topics that will be covered during the webinar. Listen to the podcast on SoundCloud or Apple Podcasts.
