Joshua Lee Smith Spoke at Worcester Business Journal's Central MA Life Sciences Forum

The life sciences industry has experienced incredible growth in the last decade, and Massachusetts has become a worldwide leader in this sector. While the epicenter of the industry remains in Cambridge, the state's strategy calls for the expansion of lab and manufacturing space throughout the Commonwealth, with the potential for significant growth in Central MA.

On March 7, 2023, Joshua Lee Smith and a panel of experts at the Worcester Business Journal's Central MA Life Sciences Forum explored the opportunities and challenges that real estate plays in attracting and helping life science companies thrive in Central MA.
