Samantha McDonald Discusses Law, Gender Bias, and Worcester Real Estate Projects on "The Chandler Chat"

DECEMBER 6, 2024

Samantha McDonald was interviewed by Harriette Chandler on the November 16, 2024, episode of WCCA-TV's The Chandler Chat. During the discussion, Samantha shared insights into her legal practice, which is focused on real estate, environmental and nonprofit law, reflecting on how the legal profession has evolved, particularly regarding gender equality and biases. She also spoke about the experience of being a female attorney in Worcester and offered advice for young women considering a legal career. Additionally, Samantha highlighted a recent real estate project she handled for Goddard Homestead, a retirement community aiming to expand its campus. The conversation also touched on Bowditch's commitment to advancing women in law, noting that 50% of the firm's attorneys are female and 36% of its equity partners are women.
