

CAMPUS COUNSEL

A legal blog written for administrators, HR professionals, in-house counsel, and deans at colleges and universities

Join Us At the Next Roundtable! Going the Distance: Legal Concerns Surrounding Internet-Based Education

MARCH 18, 2015

With colleges and universities offering more online courses to more students than ever before, it is essential that they understand and comply with the laws surrounding distance learning.

This roundtable will address legal concerns related to academic integrity and compliance with accessibility requirements in the online academic environment.

The discussion will also address the various legal issues surrounding internet-based education including:

- intellectual property and privacy rights
- trademark
- copyright
- conditions and rules for use
- best practices for related policies

Attorneys Speaking:

- Ariel Sullivan
- Charles Yon

Lunch or breakfast will be served. There is no cost to attend.

Register for a session by clicking on the location below.

SOUTH HADLEY at the Willits-Hallowell Conference Center at Mount Holyoke College on April 10, 2015 from 12 noon – 2:00 pm

WORCESTER at Bowditch & Dewey on April 17, 2015 from 7:30 – 9:30 am

For questions or further information, download a PDF invitation, or contact Sara at smurphy@bowditch.com or (508) 926-3341.