

WGBH On Campus Publishes "Opinion: NLRB Decision Opens Pandora's Box" by Anthony Dragga and David Felper

AUGUST 29, 2016

WGBH On Campus published a post by Anthony Dragga and David Felper on August 26 covering a National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) ruling that teaching and research assistants are to be defined as employees under the National Labor Relations Act. The decision, which grants higher education assistants the right to unionize, carries major implications for private colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Read "Opinion: NLRB Decision Opens Pandora's Box" on the WGBH On Campus blog.

©2026 Bowditch & Dewey LLP. All Rights Reserved.