WCVB Talks with Bob Young in "Massachusetts' largest hospital systems to mandate COVID-19 vaccine for employees"

JUNE 28, 2021

Although vaccines against COVID-19 are not currently mandatory, many employers are urging their employees to receive the vaccines. One employer, Beth Israel Lahey Health, has announced that they will require employees to be fully vaccinated once the FDA formally approves one of the vaccines. Bob Young spoke with WCVB Channel 5 about this workplace requirement.

> It's compelling in that particular work environment because of the risk of exposure being much, much higher than it would be, for example, in an office setting.
