

PARTNER

Meaghan E. Borys

T. 617-757-6543 E. mborys@bowditch.com

OVERVIEW

Meaghan Borys is a seasoned employment and higher education attorney. She conducts internal investigations, chairs and manages administrative decision-making panels, and counsels clients with respect to allegations of discrimination, harassment, and retaliation, as well as alleged violations of local conduct rules and codes. Meaghan advises private and public institutions and organizations on policy development, Board governance, and student affairs. She also designs and conducts employee trainings with respect to federal, state, and local regulatory law and compliance. Meaghan's clients include Ivy League institutions, public university systems, government agencies, and private corporations.

In the higher education space, Meaghan focuses her practice on Title IX, Title VI, Title VII, VAWA, and ADA/Section 504 compliance. She investigates cases involving several and/or high-profile parties, procedural and/or evidentiary complexities, and highly-sensitive subject matters, including allegations of criminal conduct. She is regularly engaged to serve as hearing chair and decision-maker for Title IX cases. Meaghan also served as Interim Title IX Coordinator at Brown University from January through August 2025.

Meaghan is also counsel to the Board of Trustees of Landmark College, an undergraduate educational institution designed exclusively for students who learn differently—including those with a learning disability, ADHD, autism, or executive function challenges—that champions a strengths-based learning model and conducts groundbreaking neurodiversity research.

Before Bowditch

Prior to joining Bowditch, Meaghan was an associate at a Boston law firm and represented both educational and non-profit institutions; she also handled business disputes and probate litigation. Before entering private practice, Meaghan worked in the Office for Dispute Resolution at Harvard University and conducted Title IX and related internal investigations involving faculty, students, and staff. Additionally, she spent six years with the Harvard Dean of Students Office serving as a resident advisor and mentor to first-year undergraduates. At the outset of her career, Meaghan had the honor of clerking for the Justices of the Massachusetts Superior Court. She then went on to serve as an Assistant District Attorney in the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office and litigated hundreds of criminal cases on behalf of the Commonwealth.

Besides work

Meaghan is an avid podcast listener who grew up along the beautiful shores of Lake Superior in northern Minnesota. These days, outside the office, you can find her hiking, running, at a local library, or on some kind of (typically culinary) adventure with family and friends.

AFFILIATIONS

- Member, Association of Title IX Administrators
- Member, National Association of College and University Attorneys
- Member, Massachusetts Bar Association
- Member, Boston Bar Association
- Member, Women’s Bar Association

ARTICLES & TALKS

ARTICLES

- “U.S. Department of Education to Enforce 2020 Title IX Regulations,” Bowditch, 2025
- “Update – Key Developments in Title IX Regulations,” Bowditch, 2025
- “Court Vacates 2024 Title IX Regulations—Next Steps for Higher Education Institutions,” Bowditch, 2025

TALKS

- Title IX Regulations Compliance Check-in: Pregnancy and Related Conditions, Bowditch, Higher Education Roundtable Series, 2024
- Title IX Regulations Compliance Check-in: Title IX Grievance Procedures, Bowditch Higher Education Roundtable Series, 2024
- Title IX Regulations Compliance Check-in: Title IX Coordinator Responsibilities, Bowditch Higher Education Roundtable Series, 2024
- Final 2024 Title IX Regulations: Action Items for Colleges and Universities, Bowditch, 2024

BAR ADMISSIONS

- Massachusetts
- U.S. District Court, District of Massachusetts
- U.S. Court of Appeals, First Circuit

EDUCATION

- J.D., University of California, Los Angeles
- B.A., cum laude, Harvard University