OVERVIEW

If you've been injured in an accident caused by someone else, you and the other party may settle out of court before reaching litigation. However, if a fair settlement cannot be reached, you may wish to file a lawsuit against the at-fault party or their insurance company.

Bowditch attorneys are well known for their ability in the courtroom and their representation of people involved in catastrophic personal injury litigation and wrongful death claims. We have experience representing both plaintiffs and defendants in major cases, including several newsworthy lawsuits involving claims of serious personal injury or death.

Our attorneys have established networks with leading expert witnesses in the areas of medicine, economic loss, rehabilitation, and product liability. Our success is perhaps best measured by the passion and expertise we bring to personal injury litigation.

How Our Personal Injury Litigation Attorneys Can Help

- Negligent maintenance of property
- Product defects
- Construction site accidents
- Medical malpractice

EXPERIENCE

- After a two-week jury trial, secured substantial monetary damages for an 80-year-old client who rear-ended a broken-down tractor trailer truck on a state highway. The defendant trucking company argued comparative negligence and for limited damages due to our client's advanced age, pre-existing cancer diagnosis and pending cataract surgery. The jury awarded our client over $500,000 in damages.
- Successfully defended an international security company against serious personal injury claims arising from an alleged assault by an unknown assailant in a public housing project.
- Negotiated multiple seven-figure settlements for our clients who suffered serious personal injuries
